

Mastriano

Your vote should count, but Doug Mastriano doesn't think so. When his party lost the 2020 election, he tried to overturn the results.

In November 2021, Mastriano Signed An Open Letter Calling For "Forensic Audits" Of The "Corrupted 2020 Election" And Urged States To Decertify Their Electors "Where It Has Been Shown The Elections Were Certified Prematurely And Inaccurately." According to ABC 27, "Nearly 200 state legislators have signed an open letter calling for 'forensic audits' of the 'corrupted 2020 election' and urging states to decertify electors 'where it has been shown the elections were certified prematurely and inaccurately.' The letter, signed by lawmakers from 39 states, was circulated Tuesday by Arizona State Sen. Wendy Rogers, including Pa. State Sen. Doug Mastriano." [ABC 27, 11/24/21]

Mastriano supported a new law in Pennsylvania that would let politicians overturn the 2020 election results.

Law & Crime HEADLINE: "Experts Scorch Pennsylvania Senator's 'Nakedly, Indefensibly Anti-Democratic' Attempt to Replace State's Electoral College Voters." [Law & Crime, 11/28/20]

November 30, 2020: Mastriano Introduced Senate Resolution 410 That Disputed The 2020 General Election And Urged "The United States Congress To Recognize And Count As The Commonwealth Of Pennsylvania's Electoral Votes For President And Vice President Only The Electoral Votes As Are Certified Directly By The Senate And House Of Representatives By Subsequent Concurrent Resolution." According to the Pennsylvania General Assembly, Senate Resolution 410 was a "Concurrent Resolution disputing the 2020 General Election and urging the United States Congress to recognize and count as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's electoral votes for President and Vice President only the electoral votes as are certified directly by the Senate and House of Representatives by subsequent concurrent resolution." [Pennsylvania General Assembly, SR 410, filed 11/30/20]

In November 2020, On Steve Bannon's Podcast, Mastriano Called for the Pennsylvania Legislature to Appoint Its Own Presidential Electors. According to The York Dispatch, "Appearing Friday on 'Steve Bannon's War Room,' a podcast hosted by Trump's former political adviser, state Sen. Doug Mastriano, R-Adams, renewed calls for the Legislature to seat electors friendly to Trump, rather than to Democrat Joe Biden, who won Pennsylvania by more than 80,000 votes. 'We're going to take our power back; we're going to seat the electors,' Mastriano said. 'Now, obviously, we're going to need the support of the leaders of the House and Senate.' The move was appropriate, he said without evidence, because Boockvar and other Democrats 'cheated.'" [The York Dispatch, 11/28/20]

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> AUDIO: Mastriano: “So We’re Going To Do A Resolution Between The House And Senate ... And The Resolution Is Going To Say That We’re Going To Take Our Power Back; We’re Going To Seat The Electors.” According to Doug Mastriano’s interview with Steve Bannon on the War Room Pandemic, “[29:37] MASTRIANO: And the people of the nation were, just, I think a bit shocked and taken aback that there was that much real evidence and so many witnesses who were willing to step forward. [30:34] MASTRIANO: So we’re going to do a resolution between the House and Senate – hopefully, today. I’ve spent two hours online trying to coordinate this with my colleagues and there’s a lot of good people working this here – and the resolution is going to say that we’re going to take our power back; we’re going to seat the electors.” [War Room Pandemic, AUDIO, 11/27/20]
That’s right, he wanted to let the politicians in the legislature decide instead of you and pick the winner...	In November 2020, On Steve Bannon’s Podcast, Mastriano Called for the Pennsylvania Legislature to Appoint Its Own Presidential Electors. According to The York Dispatch, “Appearing Friday on ‘Steve Bannon’s War Room,’ a podcast hosted by Trump’s former political adviser, state Sen. Doug Mastriano, R-Adams, renewed calls for the Legislature to seat electors friendly to Trump, rather than to Democrat Joe Biden, who won Pennsylvania by more than 80,000 votes. ‘We’re going to take our power back; we’re going to seat the electors,’ Mastriano said. ‘Now, obviously, we’re going to need the support of the leaders of the House and Senate.’ The move was appropriate, he said without evidence, because Boockvar and other Democrats ‘cheated.’” [The York Dispatch, 11/28/20] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> AUDIO: Mastriano: “So We’re Going To Do A Resolution Between The House And Senate ... And The Resolution Is Going To Say That We’re Going To Take Our Power Back; We’re Going To Seat The Electors.” According to Doug Mastriano’s interview with Steve Bannon on the War Room Pandemic, “[29:37] MASTRIANO: And the people of the nation were, just, I think a bit shocked and taken aback that there was that much real evidence and so many witnesses who were willing to step forward. [30:34] MASTRIANO: So we’re going to do a resolution between the House and Senate – hopefully, today. I’ve spent two hours online trying to coordinate this with my colleagues and there’s a lot of good people working this here – and the resolution is going to say that we’re going to take our power back; we’re going to seat the electors.” [War Room Pandemic, AUDIO, 11/27/20]
...even after the vote count and election had been formally	November 24, 2020: The Pennsylvania Secretary Of State Certified Pennsylvania’s Presidential Election Results,

certified in Pennsylvania.	“Officially Declaring Joe Biden The Winner.” According to the Philadelphia Inquirer, “Despite weeks of extreme rhetoric and failed lawsuits from President Donald Trump, Pennsylvania’s top elections official certified the state’s presidential election results on Tuesday, officially declaring Joe Biden the winner and paving the way for him to receive the state’s 20 Electoral College votes next month. Pennsylvania Secretary of State Kathy Boockvar made the final count official three weeks after the Nov. 3 election: Biden received 3,458,229 votes, 80,555 more than President Donald Trump’s 3,377,674 votes. Biden won 50.01% of the vote to 48.8% for Trump.” [The Philadelphia Inquirer, 11/24/20] November 30, 2020: Mastriano Introduced Senate Resolution 410 That Disputed The 2020 General Election And Urged “The United States Congress To Recognize And Count As The Commonwealth Of Pennsylvania's Electoral Votes For President And Vice President Only The Electoral Votes As Are Certified Directly By The Senate And House Of Representatives By Subsequent Concurrent Resolution.” According to the Pennsylvania General Assembly, Senate Resolution 410 was a “Concurrent Resolution disputing the 2020 General Election and urging the United States Congress to recognize and count as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's electoral votes for President and Vice President only the electoral votes as are certified directly by the Senate and House of Representatives by subsequent concurrent resolution.” [Pennsylvania General Assembly, SR 410, filed 11/30/20]
Vote against Doug Mastriano while your vote still counts.	